Social Media Game and Prize!

Want to help increase our membership? Want to increase the amount of female airline pilots? Want to think about something other than COVID-19?? Get on board with us, and join in some fun for a social media game! We have a bag of new swag as a prize that will be delivered to the winner's door! (So make sure your address is current on your website profile!)

How to play:

1. Follow our public Facebook page
2. Follow our Instagram page
3. Follow our Twitter page

Then start tagging your friends to follow these pages too!! To tag a friend, use the @ before their name. You can tag their names under any of the recent posts, or you can share the page on your own wall or page! (You don't have to be on all three platforms, just tag away where you can!) We will draw for a winner one week from today on Thursday August 27th, and announce it via email.

Thank you now more than ever, for continuing to be a part of an organization that Inspires, Supports, and Advocates for female airline pilots!
